

CHRIS HEAD

COMEDY WRITING & SPEAKING COACH

STAND-UP COMEDY COURSE FOR AGENCIES With coach and director Chris Head

If you have to speak or present, I can direct you. I direct business people, authors, stand-up comedians and more. I work with you to craft what you want to say, to structure your piece, shape stories and sharpen humour. And I direct your delivery so it lands with maximum impact. I also teach stand-up comedy courses which I take into advertising agencies.

My highly acclaimed stand-up course has been running in London (and elsewhere) for over approaching twenty years and hundreds have done it. I've also taken it into a host of advertising agencies and taken a mixed group of staff through the process of learning:

- * killer speaking skills
- * audience engagement and management techniques

And of course:

- * storytelling and joke writing and performing skills.

This is all put into practice in a wonderfully warm and supportive stand-up show on the last night of the course for friends, family and colleagues.

Here is an article from 2019 about how my course helps with confidence, presence and even likeability in the workplace, in the London Evening Standard

Here are snippets from the show at the end of a course I delivered for McCann.

For many years, I ran the course annually for the LIDA agency. They pioneered the bringing of it into agencies. The then CEO Victoria Fox had this to say:

“At LIDA we invest in a wide range of training. As part of the mix we have been engaging Chris Head to run his stand-up comedy course. Ten people from across the agency, across a wide range of disciplines and levels sign up. I can honestly say it is a truly brilliant course that I couldn’t recommend highly enough. Its fantastic for the individual - building confidence, self awareness and presentation skills. It’s brilliant team building for the team that sign up each year and it is culturally part of our LIDA DNA now. The course culminates in a show. A night the whole agency gets behind and looks forward to. The best value for money training. Chris is simply brilliant.”
Victoria Fox, CEO at LIDA

One of the original participants said:

“I left with a tremendous sense of achievement and gratitude to the agency for investing in the course and a feeling of being in an elite club of those who had the balls to do it”.

The all inclusive fee for the 8 weeks course is £2,950

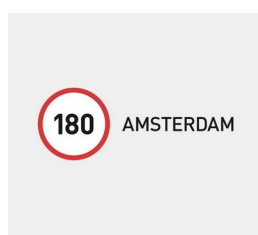

This is for 10-16 attendees, taking place at your location. It includes the end-of-course live comedy show.
